

The Vision. We won't sell you short

The trouble with some van conversions is that even though they cost a small fortune, they're still short on certain basic essentials like sleeping space.

That's where the Vision XL from Richard Holdsworth comes in with single or double beds* up to 6ft 6ins long, you won't be cramped when it comes to stretching out at night.

And because the cab seats fully recline to become part of your living area you won't be cramped when it comes to lounging either.

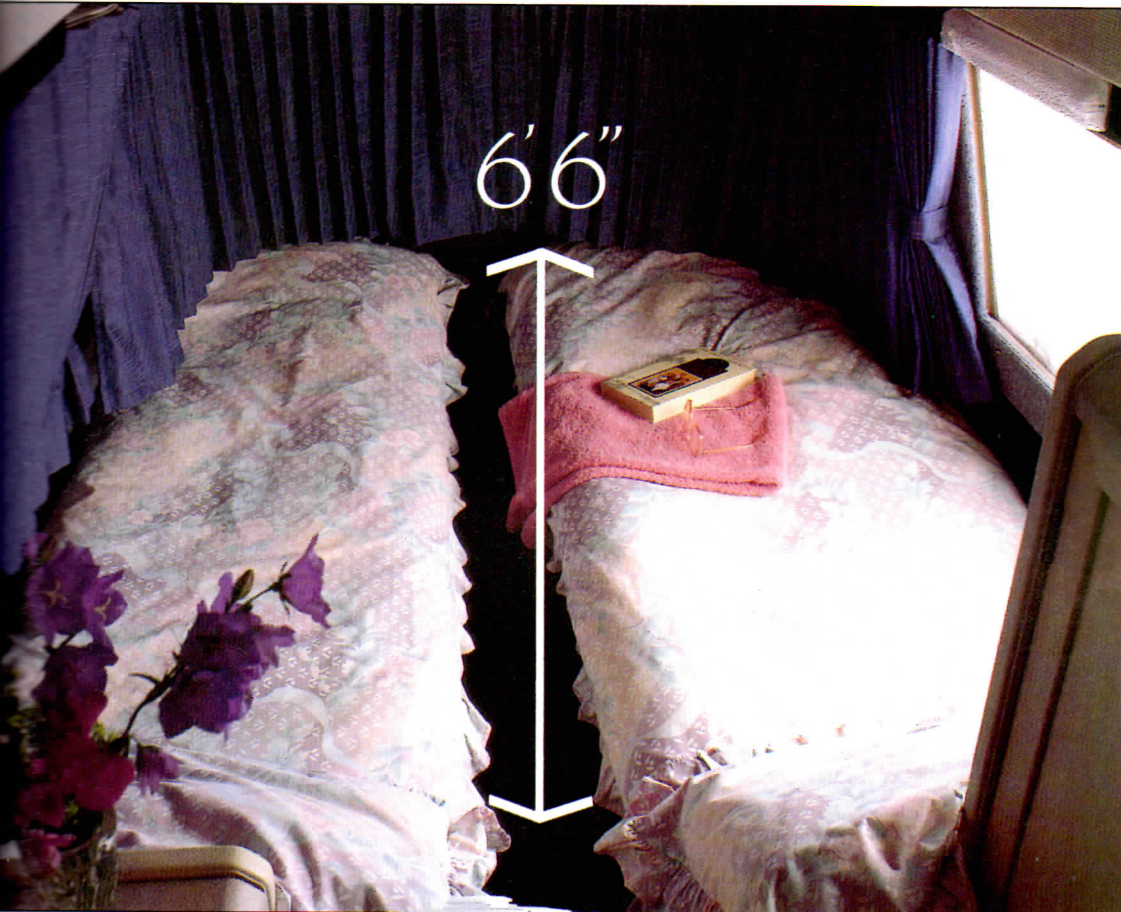

But Vision XL superiority doesn't end there. At meal times, you have a kitchen that is quite exceptional for any van conversion. In fact, it won the 'Cramer Best Kitchen Award' on its first outing at Earls Court and that was against allcomers.

Storage is no less exceptional. Under seat lockers, eye level cupboards and full length wardrobe, not to mention the chemical toilet with its own cupboard. Vision XL has other tricks up its sleeve. For example, where else can you walk from one end to the other without at least one cracked head?

And where else can you find a van conversion with a rear seat belt stressed to meet E.C. requirements for cars? (Apart from Vision's stablemate the Villa XL)

Vision XL from Richard Holdsworth! It proves you don't have to fork out a fortune to get a spacious van conversion.
